

Drought Angels

Supporting our Aussie Farmers

Annual Report 2018-19

Our Mission

Drought Angels provide direct and timely financial assistance, essential resources and meaningful relief for Primary Producers across Australia impacted by drought and natural disasters.

Our commitment is to provide heartfelt, discreet and personalised support to Farmers and rural communities who are in need.

Our Vision

Ensure our Australian agricultural industry is sustainable, preserved and thriving for the benefit of everyone.

Our History

What began in Natasha's backyard almost five and a half years ago, is a charity that has sustained organic growth year in, year out.

Founded in January 2014 to assist Queensland Farmers throughout the drought, two dedicated ladies, Natasha Johnston (Tash) and Nicole Blackwell (Nicki) started Drought Angels with a purpose in their hearts. In such difficult times, with nature's extreme, ongoing and relentless drought, Primary Producers (farmers) needed a go to contact for help and support.

Today Tash, an original founder of the charity continues the work alongside her co Director Jenny Gailey and a team of passionate staff and volunteers.

Natasha Johnston

Jennifer Gailey

Today, Drought Angels have a team of purpose-filled and passionate people who tirelessly work around the clock and give up their own spare time to support the Farmers and communities in Australia affected by natural disasters.

Our Story

Drought Angels is a registered Not for Profit Charity dedicated to supporting Australian Farmers who are Primary Producers.

A Primary Producer is the definition of 'a person or organisation producing basic agricultural commodities, such as a crop farmer or cattle producer and is your primary source of income. Drought Angels assist farming families affected by all natural disasters, Australia wide.

The level of support consists of providing food hampers and care packs, financial support via prepaid visa cards, local produce vouchers purchased from within their communities, moral support through personal face to face or phone contact and referrals to other support networks as needed.

Drought Angels pride themselves on their individualised support offered to each and every family. Drought Angels is not limited to assisting those affected by Drought, they also assist during other natural disasters such as flood and fire.

Drought Angels rely on the generosity of both public and corporate donations to assist farming families and rural communities.

Farmers and their communities experience financial and emotional hardship of everyday general living due to natural disasters. A loss of earnings and opportunity to sustain their land has a direct impact within their agricultural enterprise and has a flow on effect to everyone.

Letter from the CEO

What an incredible year! As we sit and reflect on the year that has passed, we are once again reminded of the true Australian spirit. It is not until you are faced with adversity and see a hand reaching out to you from the dust, that you can truly appreciate the kindness and love people have for our way life.

This past year, more of our country than ever has experienced drought and according to the history books, it is the longest and worst on record. Even with this being the case, Australian's from around the globe have rallied behind our Farmers making sure that their words of support are heard.

Our small charity has been thrust into the limelight this past year, receiving more than $10 million dollars in donations and over 3,500 families registering for help.

Where did all of these new families come from? How are we going to be able to reach them all? Our warehouse heaved at the seams, from what seemed like endless donations. How are we going to distribute all of this? All of these questions and more raced through our minds but in true Aussie spirit and doing what we do best, we dug deep, pushed up our sleeves and got to work.

Along with many helping hands we packed boxes into the night, too many nights to count. We called on our friends and family when we have fallen short. We provided many families with food hampers and care packs. Posted millions of dollars of prepaid visa cards, all in an effort to help ease the financial burden of those in need.

One of the most important things we did was to listen. Our Farmers and their families shared with us their pain, frustrations, worries and their burdens. We shared with them your messages of support and kindness but most importantly we shared your passion for Australia and our Australian Farmers. Many times we saw their heads raise just a little higher and their backs straighten with hope. Our Aussie Farmers have not yet been beaten, they will give this drought and the challenges to come, one heck of a fight!

With the long range forecast not looking so great, our team continues to work tirelessly to ensure that each farmer and their family is treated with care, respect and dignity. Our team will continue to listen and more importantly hear what keeps them up at night. A lot of the time it's all about their farm but occasionally they will let slip that a birthday is coming up or an anniversary is not far away. This is our cue, our opportunity to show that we have been listening and that we care. We send them treats and special gifts that have been donated by you and on behalf of you. Because without you there would be no Drought Angels. We always tell our families that we are the lucky ones, the ones who get to pass along your words of support, your generous gifts and financial support. They are always incredulous; how could a stranger be so kind? They are humbled, thankful and so appreciative that someone has their back.

Together we will all battle the drought and any other natural disasters that come our way. The Bush Fires are now affecting those same farmers who were in drought just last week but they will battle through. Showing resilience and true Aussie grit! We will remain beside our farming families and their communities, thanking them for our beautiful produce, our clothes and for the experience of the Australian farming way. Our goal is to protect and preserve this land for the benefit of everyone.

A Queensland family in (2018) suffering for years with the drought

In August 2018 an application was received into Drought Angels from a Queensland family experiencing drought for approximately eight years. The family were struggling to meet their everyday living expenses and shared with the Drought Angels Farmer Support Team how they were living on chicken nuggets and a little bit of beef from the freezer. Both of their family vehicles were running barely legal tires and they were at a point of dire desperation.

As well as the effects of the drought, health was another major concern for this family. The father and the son both suffer from a condition called “Gorlin Syndrome” which causes the development of multiple tumours to grow and cause defects in a body. Drought Angels stepped in and provided as much financial assistance as they were able to at the time knowing the family were far from financial hardship relief .

In January 2019 the family’s son underwent surgery and again in June 2019 for the removal of tumours. The family were exhausted from the constant doctors’ visits, trips to and from specialists, as well as the ongoing drought at their back door. When a second application for assistance was received in May 2019, Drought Angels were in a better financial position to assist. The team immediately set to work on ways to help improve the family’s day to day situation.

Drought Angels connected them with other organisations close to their home to help with their son’s recovery and sent them additional prepaid visas to help ease the burden on the home front. They sent across special “care packs” for each member of the family so they could have a few simple but much needed essentials whilst they travel through a long and difficult road.

The email received from the mother of this family after receiving the assistance from Drought Angels:

“I am crying tears of joy, the feeling of support and overwhelming kindness that yourself and Drought Angels has offered, honestly gives us hope to keep going on. The constant worry of what lies ahead with our son and dealing with the drought is very hard to cope with but knowing there are such beautiful people out there wanting to help is just truly amazing. From my heart, I sincerely wish to say THANK YOU!”

Our Objectives & Activities

The following are the high level objectives that Drought Angels has been focused on and will continue to prioritise.

1. Financial Performance

Where we are helping

-  Farmer support provided
-  RDO (RURAL DAY OFF)

Looking to the future

As the drought bites harder and the Australian landscape and climate changes, Drought Angels has been and always will be here for our Aussie Farmers. We are farmer driven and focused assisting across Australia supporting them through all natural disasters.

We understand the effects and time it takes to recover, hence our catch phrase “We Won’t Forget You”.

So as our farmers stare down the barrel of another year in drought, the bush fire season decimating millions of acres of land and wildlife, so much earlier and more ferociously than in previous years, and with flooding rains replenishing the land in other parts of our country, we need you to remember our farmers.

Recovery does not take a day or even a month. Research has shown that for every year in drought it will take two years to recover.

So make a difference in your life every day...

Buy Australian Made when shopping in your local supermarkets

Take holidays in outback or rural towns

Shop locally - use your farmers markets or other local merchants

Donate to the charity that supports Australian farmers

You too can make a difference to every farming family.
